

2025年贵州贵阳南明区初三中考二模英语试卷

一、选词填空

1. 阅读下面短文，从框内7个选项中选出可以填入空白处的最佳选项。选项中有一项为多余选项。

A. so B. a C. in D. from E. but F.
tell G. finest

The Miao people are one of the largest ethnic minority (少数民族) groups in China. Most of them live 1 some places like Guizhou, Yunnan, Hunan, Sichuan provinces and Guangxi Zhuang Autonomous Region. A small number of Miao people also live in Hainan province.

Embroidery (刺绣) plays an important part in Miao culture and it is 2 valuable part of traditional Chinese dress culture. The Miao people didn't have their own written language before, 3 embroidery became an important way to save their history and culture. Miao embroidery is on China's first official list of state-level intangible cultural heritage items (非物质文化遗产项目). It is considered one of the 4 examples of embroidery art.

Miao embroidery has a long history of over 2,000 years. Miao people who do embroidery are highly skilled in their work. They use silk, cotton thread and even horsehair. They make beautiful patterns on cuffs (袖口), sleeves and collars (领口). These patterns have things like dragons and phoenixes (凤凰), which are 5 old stories, and also normal insects, fish and flowers. These pictures are not just for making things look nice. They are like history books.

They 6 about the Miao people's daily life, important times in their lives, and the stories and history of their community.

Overall, Miao embroidery is not only a beautiful art form but also a way to keep the Miao people's history and culture alive.

二、完形填空

2. 阅读下面短文，从每题所给的A、B、C三个选项中选出可以填入空白处的最佳选项。

Tom, a curious middle-school student, had always wanted to explore the unknown forest near his home. One sunny afternoon, he only a water bottle and a compass, then walked into the forest alone.

At first, sunlight shone through the leaves, and birds sang happily. But as Tom deeper, the trees became taller, blocking the sun. The paths he knew were gone. His heart beat fast—he was ! Cold sweat (汗水) ran down Tom's neck, but he remembered a rule from his survival book: "Stay calm and look around."

Tom looked around _____ and saw some strange signs on some trees—arrows showing the way! Though he felt tired, he followed them. To remember his way, he used a _____ to make triangle signs on the trees every few steps. He walked _____ and walked in the forest. When his legs started to _____, he heard a wonderful sound—splash! There was a small stream shining brightly ahead! He remembered his teacher saying, “If you _____ flowing (流动的) water, you’ll find help.” With hope in his heart, Tom walked along the stream.

Three hours later, sunlight appeared through the trees. Far away, Tom _____ a road! The sound of cars made him run faster. When he finally got out of the _____, the sunset painted the sky golden.

This adventure taught Tom a valuable lesson about respecting nature and never underestimating (低估) its _____. From that day on, he told his friends and family about his adventure, warning them always to be prepared when entering the unknown.

7.

A. took

B. drew

C. sold

8.

A. dug

B. went

C. breathed

9.

A. lost

B. tired

C. angry

10.

A. happily

B. suddenly

C. carefully

11.

A. pen

B. knife

C. stone

12.

A. rest

B. hurt

C. move

13.

A. boil

B. drink

C. follow

14.

A. saw

B. built

C. chose

15.

A. water

B. forest

C. school

16.

A. size

B. power

C. beauty

三、阅读理解

3.

Guizhou Provincial Museum
www.gzmuseum.com

●●●●● TripAdvisor (73,521) Museum
No. 107, Lincheng East Road, Guanshanhu District,
Guiyang City

☎ 0851-84811809 / 84811830

🕒 Open from Tuesday to Sunday for free, closed on Monday, except holidays.

09:00 Opening 16:00 Stop admission 17:00 Closed

01 Guided service A. Audio guide B. Full-time instructor Chinese and English timed free guided tour.	02 Cars parked Free parking spaces for cars.	03 Wheelchair and baby cart
04 Free hosting Self-service lockers for free luggage storage

Reviews

●●●●● TripAdvisor 4.5/5 ●●●●● 1,250 reviews

5 points 75%
4 points 18%
3 points 4%
2 points 2%
1 point 1%

Recent reviews Any rating

●●●●● March 25, 2025
Amazing place. Well presented.
I could easily return many times. And it is free!

Full review by Goodtimer

●●●●● March 25, 2025
An excellent collection of the colorful Guizhou! There are beautiful traditional art forms of ethnic groups, such as Miao, Dong, Buyi and so on.

Full review by C2002Hsmar

View more

17. You usually can't visit Guizhou Provincial Museum at _____.

- A. 9:00 a.m. on Monday B. 11:00 a.m. on Thursday C. 2:00 p.m. on Sunday

18. What can we do in Guizhou Provincial Museum?

- ① Visit the museum with babies. ② Buy tickets to visit the museum.

- ③ Choose four kinds of guided service. ④ Store our luggage by ourselves for free.

- A. ①② B. ①④ C. ③④

19. What did most visitors think of the museum?

- A. Terrible. B. Not bad. C. Very good.

20. Where is the text probably from?

- A. A science magazine. B. A shopping app. C. A travel website.

4.

China's Ministry of Education (教育部) has warned against schools serving precooked meals to students after parents said they might be unhealthy and unsafe for children to eat. Many schools, especially in Ganzhou, Jiangxi province, have promised to stop offering such food. They now focus on providing fresh and safe meals for students, showing the importance of healthy eating in schools.

Wang Liang, a headmaster of a primary school in Changsha, said the canteen there provides lunch for students, and all the ingredients are bought and cooked in the morning. "All food at the canteen is fresh, and there is not even one frozen (冷冻的) ingredient," he told local media outlet Xiaoxiang Morning News.

Deng Li, a mother of a third-grade student in Changsha, told China Daily that her daughter eats lunch at her school canteen on weekdays and her school has also promised not to serve precooked food. The school sometimes sends photos of the food to parent WeChat groups, and Deng makes sure to ask her daughter every day whether she has eaten a good meal at school, she said.

Without doubt, precooked food can be quick, convenient and has a long shelf life (保存期). However, parents' worries are not without reason. After all, few people eat precooked food every day, and naturally they don't want their children to do that either. Schools should have more power in deciding which ingredients the companies buy for students and ensure that the companies offer many different kinds of food choices to students. For now, the precooked food industry still has a long way to go.

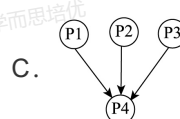

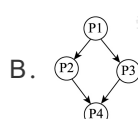

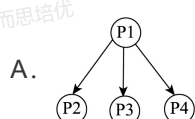

21. What does the underlined word "they" in Paragraph 1 refer to?

- A. Precooked meals. B. Parents. C. Schools.

22. What did the headmaster in Changsha say about the school canteen?

- A. Some of the food served was precooked.
B. It served breakfast and lunch for students.
C. The food was fresh with no frozen ingredients.

23. Which is the correct structure of this text? (P1= Para.1)

24. Which can be the best title for the text?

- A. Why Is Precooked Food Popular in Schools?
B. What Is the Future of Precooked Food Industry?
C. Why Are Schools Saying No to Precooked Food?

5.

Zhang Lincong, a 43-year-old Chongqing native, has won online praise for giving a helping hand to a truck driver from Shandong who was caught on a mountain road in snow, CCTV News reported on Monday.

On the afternoon of January 10, 2025, Zhang and his friend were driving back home after enjoying the snow scenery in the Daba Mountains of Chongqing where they found the truck driver asking for help. The driver, surnamed Li, was going back to Shandong after sending goods to Chongqing. However, guided by the navigation (导航) system, he found himself on the icy and steep mountain road. What's worse, he didn't notice it was snowing until he drove halfway up the mountain.

The driver told Zhang that he used to drive small cars and had only recently begun to drive trucks. The cliff (悬崖) and icy road made him feel a little nervous and scared as he has little experience driving in such conditions. After knowing Li's worries, Zhang asked Li to take their car, and he jumped in Li's truck and managed to turn it around and finally drive down the mountain safely. Li and Zhang went separate ways but later met again at a highway service area. Although Li wanted to express his thanks again by treating Zhang and his friend to dinner, the two politely refused.

"I wasn't reckless (鲁莽的). I drove trucks from 2013 to 2016. Although I changed to another job, I'm still skilled at driving," Zhang said when asked if he had any worries about helping a stranger on the mountain road. "I'm happy to help people in need," he said. Back in 2008, when Zhang was working in Fujian Province, he also saved a girl from a river. His stories show the power of ordinary people in warming up the society.

25. Who is Zhang Lincong?

- A. A news reporter from CCTV.
- B. A truck driver from Shandong.
- C. A 43-year-old Chongqing native.

26. What can we know from Paragraph 2?

- A. Some online praise for helping a truck driver.
- B. Bad and dangerous situation of a truck and a driver.
- C. The story of how a car driver helps a truck driver out.

27. What made the truck driver feel nervous and scared?

- A. His long driving way to Shandong.
- B. His rich experience of driving small cars.
- C. His poor driving experience under such a bad condition.

28. Which saying best shows the spirit of Zhang Lincong?

- A. Giving a hand brings joy.
- B. Kill two birds with one stone.
- C. Good friend is just like a mirror.

6. 阅读下面短文，从短文后框内选项中选出可以填入空白处的最佳选项。选项中有一项为多余选项。

Have you ever flipped (翻转) over a board game when things don't go your way, or got mad when your team loses? _____ 29 _____ But today we're going to talk about learning how to lose well.

What does it mean to lose?

Whether it's a sports match, a board game or a bike race with your friends, no one wins every time. 30 It's easy to understand why winning feels great. It makes you happy and helps you believe in yourself. Losing can be disappointing and sad. However, learning to lose well can turn these feelings around and make losing a chance to increase your confidence and help you to succeed next time.

Why can losing be good for you?

31 After a loss, we can find what we need to do differently. Small disappointments, like not being picked in class, can teach us to deal with bad feelings. Preparing what to say also helps. So when someone beats you at a game, try saying "Well done" and that makes you feel better. Why does it help? That's because it shows how strong you really are.

How can you lose well?

- See the bigger and further picture. When you lose, don't think you've failed. 32
 - Manage your emotions. It's normal to be angry or disappointed, so find healthy ways to let out those feelings, like drawing or walking.
 - Be a good player. 33 Remember how good or bad it feels to come first, shake hands and say congratulations to others.
- A. Losing helps us see what went wrong.
- B. Losing is a bad thing most of the time.
- C. Try to be happy for others when they win.
- D. Even Olympic champions lose sometimes.
- E. Show others you often feel sad and disappointed.
- F. Think about the efforts you've put and skills you've gained.

四、任务型阅读

7. 阅读下面短文，根据其内容填空和回答问题。

On April 19th, a special half-marathon was held in Beijing. Twenty human-shaped robots ran with thousands of people in the race for the very first time. This race wasn't just about running. It was also a big test for China's robot technology.

Among them, six robots finished the 21-kilometer race. A robot named Tiangong Ultra, which is 1.8 meters tall and weighs 55 kilograms, won the race. It took 2 hours, 40 minutes and 42 seconds to reach the finish line. These robots showed that they could deal with difficult situations, like going up slopes and turning corners.

Xiong Youjin, the CEO of a robot company, said the race was a way to test some important technologies. He said that robots needed strong joints, good control over their movements and smart algorithms (算法) to finish the race. The race also tested how long the robots' batteries could last and how stable they were.

China has been trying hard to develop its robotics industry. The goal is to make a large number of robots and build a strong supply chain by 2027. Also, companies are making robots that aren't too expensive for common people. For example, Unitree Robotics is selling its G1 robot for 99,000yuan($ 13.560). That's much cheaper than Tesla's Optimus robot, which may cost between $ 20,000 and $ 30,000.

This event has started many discussions about how this technology will be used in the future. People are talking about how robots and humans can live and work together. It showed that robots aren't just for labs. They can also be part of our daily lives.

This robot marathon has opened the door to a new chance of cooperation and competition between humans and robots. As technology keeps improving, we can only imagine all the amazing things that will happen where robotics and sports meet.

34. The special marathon held in Beijing was _____ for China's robot technology on April 19th.

35. _____ kinds of technologies and stable batteries are needed to finish the half-marathon.

36. From Paragraph 4, we can know Tesla's Optimus robot is _____ than G1 robot.

37. This event has made people _____ how this technology will be used in the future.

38. What do you think robots can do in the future?

五、完成句子

8. 读书对于每个人都是必需的，阅读不仅仅是一种爱好，更是一种强大能量！ _____ necessary for everyone to read books. Reading is not just a hobby, it's also a superpower!

9. 如果我们阅读来自不同文化的故事，我们就会更好地了解世界。

If we read stories from different cultures, we _____ the world better.

10. 正如谚语所说：“书籍是人类进步的阶梯”。我们读书越多，就能变得越明智。

As an old saying goes, "Books are the ladder of our human progress." The more we read, _____ we can be.

11. 为什么不参加我们学校的读书节活动呢？让我们一起探索奇妙的书的世界吧！ _____ join our School's Book Day event? Let's explore the wonderful world of books together!

12. 亲爱的同学们，切勿错过邂逅书香的良机！

Dear classmates, _____ the chance to fall in love with books!

六、短文填空

13. 阅读下面短文，在空白处填入1个适当的单词或括号内单词的正确形式。

The Jiuquan Satellite Launch Center (酒泉卫星发射中心) became very bright on April 24, 2025. The Long March-2F rocket (长征二号F运载火箭) took the Shenzhou-20 manned spacecraft into the sky. It 44 (fly) fast towards the big universe. This day is very special. It's the 10th "China Space Day" and also the 55th birthday of the "Dongfanghong-1" satellite's launch.

Fifty-five years ago, on April 24, 1970, China sent 45 (it) first man-made satellite, "Dongfanghong-1", into space. At that time, things were hard. 46 Chinese scientists didn't give up. They worked very hard and solved many problems. They wanted people to see the satellite, so a big "skirt" 47 (put) on the rocket. The "Dongfanghong-1" played the song Dongfanghong in space. It started China's space journey. Now, 55 years later, the Shenzhou-20 spacecraft flies again. There are three astronauts in this mission (使命). Chen Dong is the 48 (lead). He has been into space twice. Chen Zhongrui and Wang Jie are new astronauts. This is their 49 (one) space trip.

From "Dongfanghong-1" 50 "Shenzhou-20", China's space science has developed a lot. In the past, we just sent satellites into space. Now, we build space stations and do science experiments there. The Shenzhou-20 has new technology. It can meet and join with the space station quickly. The batteries in it are improved. It makes the spacecraft lighter and work 51 (well).

But one thing never changes. That is 52 special spirit of Chinese space scientists. They love their country and work hard. In the past, they made great things happen with few tools. Today young scientists keep 53 (work) hard, too. China's space science will go further and make more great achievements.

七、书面表达

14. 54. 课间活动促进同学们身心健康发展。你校英语广播站现开展以“活力课间、快乐成长”为主题的征文活动，请结合“Class-break Joy”这首小诗带给你的思考和启发，以“Class-break Activities Make Me _____”为题写一篇征文参与投稿。

Class-break Joy

Between the books and lessons tight,
We run on the ground, laugh in the sunshine;
Some play soccer, some play basketball.
Some chat with friends and share it all;
A breath, a joke, a game, a cheer,

Fifteen minutes make the day shine clearly; When the bell rings, we rush back in, But hearts stay bright where fun begins.
--

写作要求:

- 1.介绍你经常参与的课间活动;
 - 2.分享你对课间活动的看法和收获:
 - 3.不少于80词且不出现个人真实信息。
-